

WORLD BOOK DAY 3 MARCH 2016

To celebrate World Book Day and highlight the value of a variety and range of children's literature our pupils came to school dressed as a character from their favourite book. They all looked wonderful and had made a super effort with their costumes.

We were very fortunate at Henry Prince to welcome Peter Chand the Storyteller into school for the day. The children were entranced by his stories which he made come alive with words and actions. Peter spent time in each class and the day culminated in the whole school joining together in the hall for a finale session. Having visited us before, Peter commented on our children's wonderful behaviour and how they enthusiastically joined in with all of the storytelling.

We look forward to the next special event in school.
